YOU CAN MAKE MIRACLES HAPPEN GIVE THE GIFT OF SAFE WATER

I have every reason for thanking God and our beloved donors for making this wonderful gift of good water happen. My grandchild's health is now great ... and the money we used to spend on his and our medical treatment is now spared for other purposes. — Rose Mushi, respected village elder

When you give to It Can Be Done, safe water gives children health, women hope and families a future.

Since 2008 our all volunteer grassroots organization has worked to break the cycle of poverty in Uru Tanzania. Thanks to the generosity of donors and volunteer participants, many lives have been transformed.

Contributions were matched with 'sweat equity' community labor and local management, to create sustainable life-changing impact with:

- A high performance maximum yield borehole supply
- 2 large and several auxillary holding cisterns
- 9 miles of community laid pipelines
- 28 public tap kiosks complete with meters, for neighborhood access
- safe water supplied to an average 3000+ people for daily use
- water supplied to 2 churches & 2 schools
- reliable safe water supply connected soon to the primary local health clinic
- amount of water supplied Jan.-Dec. 2014:
7,637,831 liters or 403,540 buckets
(approx. 5 gals each bucket)

In the spirit of Gratitude & Giving, It Can Be Done comes to the end of 2015 knowing that much has been accomplished to create the miracle of health, happiness and hope in Kilimanjaro Tanzania!

*With your help we can transform more lives

Safe water access allows women to dream bigger and create better lives for themselves and their families.

With less time spent in seeking and carrying water, income-producing activities are welcomed and embraced. With new income opportunities, the doors to economic empowerment open, leading women to many new levels of decision-making, community participation and social justice.

In 2011 It Can Be Done provided guidance and start-up support to a small group of Uru village women interested in building skills & creating fair trade products. ICBD continues support to the Acorn Women's Cooperative for essential capacity building with grant funding for training, building improvements, and equipment, as they strive for self-sufficient sustainability.

Access to safe water means health, education and income- especially for women and children.

A life saved is a miracle to be lived.

Access to this safe water has had a deep impact on us. It has greatly freed the time of our women and children... girls especially ...that used to be spent fetching water. Now, our girls can do what they traditionally missed out doing. They can use the time to study, do homework or even play instead. Hundreds of households now have access to this water, so our community has saved thousands of hours that can be used for productive work.

— Father Jumatano, community activist & clergy, Kishumundu RC Church
